ABAT®

APPLIED BEHAVIOR ANALYSIS TECHNICIAN®

January 2027 Intake : Online Training Course

ABOUT THIS COURSE

The ABAT credential is governed by the Qualified Applied Behavior Analysis Credentialing Board (QABA). Through the ABAT certification program, the community is able to identify and access qualified individuals to provide quality ABA therapy to clients with Autism.

SEED Autism Services is an Approved Coursework Provider for ABAT. We have designed the Course to meet QABA's credentialing requirements.

ABAT ®

APPLIED BEHAVIOR ANALYSIS TECHNICIAN

Who is this Coursework most suitable for?

This approved Coursework is suitable for anyone wishing to implement ABA treatment plans for an individual with Autism. The Coursework teaches behavioral intervention in home, community and school settings to increase communication, social, play, academic and daily living skills, while reducing inappropriate behaviors.

What are the eligibility criteria needed to enrol in this Coursework?

You need to be at least 18 years old and possess a high school leaving diploma.

Will I be a certified ABAT® at the end of this Coursework?

No. To be a certified ABAT®, you will need to complete the approved Coursework, pass the exam and meet the 15 hours of fieldwork under the supervision of a professional who is certified within the scope of ABA and Autism. The eligibility criteria to be certified ABAT® is also more extensive and is available on the QABA website here. As a certified ABAT®, your credential information will be published in QABA's online registry.

Please note that to pursue the credential, you will need to fulfill the Course Completion requirements set by QABA. If you are unable to fulfill these requirements, you may still participate in the Course but will not be eligible to receive the the ABAT® certification by QABA.

Can I attend the Course without pursuing Certification?

Yes, you can! While we encourage participants to complete the certification process, it is not a requirement. At SEED Autism Services, we believe in empowering the community with the right knowledge and skillsets. Certification may not be for everyone. For example, you may be in a setting where obtaining supervision long-term is not possible. But you may still be keen in learning and upgrading skills and techniques required to implement ABA treatment plans effectively.

Is there value in obtaining the ABAT® certification then?

Most definitely. While it may not be necessary for everyone to walk down the exam and certification path, it does open up employment opportunities and credibility in this field, be it in the local scene or internationally. More importantly, there is tremendous value in upgrading skills to enable you to work effectively with individuals with Autism.

Where can I learn more about the ABAT® certification?

You may learn all about the certification here.

What is SEED's role in this program?

SEED Autism Services is an Approved Coursework Provider for ABAT®, which means we essentially conduct the Course. During the orientation session, we will also guide candidates in the procedures involved for obtaining certification. However, candidates will be responsible for their exam, supervision and renewal arrangements, and are therefore highly encouraged to read up on the published information on QABA website.
